VOL. VI.

RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 23, 1879.

NO. 104.

Talk is Cheap.
And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes, hats and gentlemen's and boys' fine furnishing goods. If you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. I do not boast when I say that I defy competition in prices in anything I sell here. Besides this I have only one price. I have no preferred customers. Everybody interested with my establishment. My stock is the largest and most complete ever offered in any part of this State. Everything I have is new. No old, musty and out-of-date goods can be found on my shelves. I receive daily by rail and express the latest and best goods, which are obtained at first hand and sold at prices below those now prevailing in New York and Chicago. Let the people come and judge of my prices and examine my stock before going into those humbugging, Cheap John shops, in which they draw into the ear of the customer that they sell at cost and even below cost. Anybody with common sense must know that they lie. No cheapener sells goods for the fun of the thing. I make a profit on everything I sell, as every honest merchant does, and don't print foolish falsehoods in the vain hope of deceiving the public. One must make a profit to live. I particularly call attention to my full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods form one of my specialties. Remember the place. The White House, No. 18, Commercial Row. Orders from the country promptly attended to.

Something of Interest to the Public.
Having opened a first-class merchant tailor establishment in Reno I beg leave to inform the public that I am prepared to make gentlemen's garments, and refer the public to my price-list below, which will convince all that the rates are reduced far below the prices formerly charged in the state of Nevada:
Pants, cashmere, made to order, from $8 to $12. Usual price, $12 to $15.
Black dress pants, from $12 to $15. Usual price, $15 to $18.
Business suits, from $30 to $40. Usual price, $40 to $50.
Fine Scotch suits, imported goods, $45. Usual price, $50.
Fine diagonal suits, from $30 to $50. Usual price $50 to $70.
Fine black & blue dress suits, from $30 to $50. Usual price, $50 to $70.
Give me a call and convince yourself. I guarantee a good fit for all work done in my shop. Clothes repaired and renovated on the shortest possible notice and satisfaction guaranteed.
S. JACOBI,
Merchant Tailor,
Virginia street. (Building formerly occupied by Justice's Court.) Jan 15/79.

The scarcity of diamonds, gold and silver, and the difficulties met with in securing them, is a sure indication of their value. Thus it is with a valuable medicine: Dr. Ang. Kaiser's celebrated German Pulmonic Elixir, through the jealousy of rivals, has met with the most bitter opposition, and apparently almost insurmountable obstacles have been thrown in its way; but its opponents might as well try to change the course of the sun, sweep back the ocean with a broom, or put out a prairie fire with a tear. For the cure of Throat and Lung diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchial Affections it is unequalled. Its cures are truly magical. Ask your druggists, Chemists & SHOEMAKERS, for it. The genuine bears the Prussian Coat of Arms, the facsimile signature of Dr. Ang. Kaiser, and has his name blown on every five-cent bottle. Trial bottle, 25 cents. ANG. KAISER'S PULMONIC ELIXIR.

To All Whom it May Concern.
This is to certify that I, L. E. Friedman, do this 14th day of January, 1879, bargain and sell my shop with appurtenances thereunto belonging, and with title, interest and good will of the same, to Charles M. Kinyr.
This shop will be opened every Saturday evening. My many patrons will confer upon me a special favor by accommodating themselves to this change, for the benefit of my successor.
I certify that the above is done in good faith and also that the prices of the shop will remain for the present, as recently reduced. A first-class shop and good work guaranteed to all.
CHARLES M. KINYR.

A CORRESPONDENT.—"You are a mule, etc." said an inmate man to his son. "And you are my father, etc." was the quick reply. "And it is no use to deny the relationship." The old gentleman attempted to assume a severe look, but a fatal mule stole over his face, and to reward the wit of his son, went to a N. Davidson's Jewelry Store and selected one of the finest Watches and Chains for him as a Christmas present. They both were made happy, as the son returned the compliment again.

Consumers are referred to the following extract from the report of an eminent Analyst:
This is a pure barley and wheat spirit, remarkable in highest purity, which impart a delicate aroma, at the same time greatly increasing its value as a digestive stimulant. The solid residue contains a large amount of tannin, derived from storing in oak casks, which imparts to fine old whiskey one of its valuable individual qualities. The amount of the residue proves the whiskey to be free from the excessive coloring and sweetening so generally used in adulterating. In fact, in two words, it is the PUREST WHISKY, and will not only supply a public want, now that whiskeys are so generally adulterated, but will be of the greatest value to the physician in those numerous cases where pure whiskeys are the most useful of all medicines.

"AN AMUSING INCIDENT."

Another amusing incident occurred during the season, in which a strong under-current of indignation, drifting from the Mechanics' and Miners' Unions, principally the former, made it assume, to the eyes of many, a serious aspect. You of course remember Senator Stewart's "shotgun" act, as it is called, making the actions of hired fighters in mines, etc., a felony. It was drawn and introduced with the best motive in the world, but the Unions thought it a direct thrust at them, inasmuch as in case of an attempt to lower wages, any demonstration on their part to prevent such would be construed and brought within the penalties of the bill. The consequence was when the bill came up on its third reading and passage, Senator Stewart asked that it might be withdrawn or amended so as to exclude the orders referred to. Considerable discussion followed, some of the senators desiring to vote for the bill as it stood; others were willing that it should be amended, and finally the senator was appointed a committee of one to amend his own work, which he did by omitting the penalties upon any labor union or organization numbering 100 men. This, of course, would legalize any mob who might call themselves laborers, and most completely killed the bill, amid much laughter, Stewart himself vowing against its passage. — Carson letter to Gold Hill News.

That's amusing, is it? Now, for our part, we consider it disgraceful and cowardly. It shows that our senate has not a great deal of backbone about it and that a fear of losing votes is a higher consideration with it than maintaining the public peace and the dignity of the law. The Miners' and Mechanics' Union are able, then, to bully the senate and "amid much laughter" it fawns for the favors of numbers. The GAZETTE wishes to express its decided opinion that the Miners' and Mechanics' Unions of Storey county have no more license to maintain what they deem their rights with shotguns than any other class of men. Senator Stewart's bill in its original shape was a good one and has in the past caused dozens of murders. Let us hope that the state senate of Nevada will not entertain the country with many more such amusing incidents. Its conduct in this instance must excite the hearty contempt of every one, including that of the men who did the bullying.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The last issue of the Reno GAZETTE received at this office comes in a green wrapper—which is by no means indicative of the contents—and on the inside in the picture of a nude female, reclining in a bath-tub, with about as much of her person exposed as shown by a female renter toward the class of the performance. Is this an insidious attempt to corrupt the morals of the Great East?—Eureka Leader.

It would take something more than a real bath-tub, (without a green wrapper) to accomplish that miracle in immorality.

Colonel Hinton by going to Washington has done himself one gigantic service. No one can suspect him of being the author of the San Francisco Post's paragraphs, for from day to day they still pour out in an endless, idiotic flood.

The latest argument against the desirability of the Chinese as an element of the population of this country is that they are baseless. The charge is a serious one and we commend it to the attention of the eastern press.

The Eureka Sentinel which asserts that it is friendly to poor Alf Vanderbilt, never loses an opportunity to take a scurvy fling at him.

It has been lately observed that some Virginia ladies have begun to display a deal of bad taste, as well as of bad manners, by dancing at social parties with their hats on. This tends to give them an exclusive air. There is a rule in vogue in all social clubs on the coast that ladies should remove their hats before going upon the dancing floor. The present styles savors rather strongly of San Francisco hoodlumism. — Virginia Chronicle.

Why mention such a trifle? Pay little attention to the gentlemen who attend Virginia parties. The rule which obtains in all good Nevada society that gentlemen should only smoke two-bit cigars in the presence of ladies is completely violated on the Coast. It may also be remarked that your real gentleman will not let the nature of the ball-room to get rid of his tobacco juice, whereas nothing is more common than to see the leaders of fashion in our neighboring town squirt it right among the feet of the dancers. We are not surprised that the ladies keep their hats on. The only wonder is that they do not also wear their arctic overshoes in the halls of pride and pleasure.

The churches had a good attendance yesterday and last evening, and the heathen fund was augmented by about $4—the collections taken up.—Eureka Leader.

When a full Eureka congregation is dismissed one half says "Good evening Brother Brown," and the other half replies, "Good evening Brother Smith." Then the two halves congratulate the clergyman on the amount of the collection.

We publish in our local column the fisherman's side of the pending Pyramid reservation contest. It is to be hoped that this matter will be settled with due regard to all parties. If the government has a reservation at Pyramid let the lines be settled and the boundaries enforced. If parties have been mystifying the public in regard to the real boundaries let this fact be proven. The GAZETTE wants to see the right prevail and it is about time that the right side was determined.

English Forgers.

[Baltimore Sun's London Letter.] For some time past the London police authorities have been forwarding the police in America about an old and powerfully organized gang of London forgers who departed hence for New York and San Francisco, and skillfully forged letters of credit on British banks after the eleventh hour of precaution. A good deal of surprise prevails here at police headquarters that these forgers were permitted to indulge in their pranks without hindrance before being successful. In the case of the forgeries on a prominent London bank by one of the chiefs of this gang, in San Francisco, there is no doubt that he was known beforehand by the police of that city. If precaution is better than cure, and conviction is only a part of a division of the spoils, the sooner the "detective" police is reformed, the better for the Orient and the Occident regions. This gang has been an old exasperation from London, and daring in society as well as in "letters of credit," has been one of their chief stocks in trade. I am informed that one of their party can as skillfully forge signatures that it is no easy matter to detect the false from the fair name. Then the process of false water-marking paper by the glycerine veneering is also effective in deception. Hence preparatory information as to the programmes of such persons should be acted on promptly by the police. I learn that Washington may be surprised before long by an attempt of skillful forgers; hence, to keep safe, bonds and certain employees properly guarded is a wise precaution. A grand telegraphic police system is about to be organized or arranged, placing the great places of the world in supervised information as to crime and criminals. I used the word "supervised" advisedly, for it means looking after some police as well as some prisoners, and perhaps making the former like the latter in the eyes of the law.

A Brave Boy's Death.

[Try Whig, Jan. 28.] About 7:30 o'clock last evening Clarence Carman, aged fourteen years, son of a widow in Lanesburg, in company with Cora Geer aged twelve years, started to enjoy the sport on the ice with a host of other boys and girls. They had barely begun to enjoy themselves when both skated into an air hole, and vanished from sight. Clarence, like a little hero, seized his playmate and held her up, calling for help until exhausted, and then with the words, "Hold on to the ice, Cora, I'm going good-bye," and was drowned. The little girl held fast to the ice until the cries of the other boys and girls brought assistance, and she was rescued. Search for the body of the brave boy was made, and it was recovered in about an hour, and removed to the home of the distracted mother. Clarence might have saved himself, but with heroic self-sacrifice preferred to save his playmate.

He Could Swear.

It is so easy to swear. William H. Vanderbilt, the richest man in America, recently made a sworn return to the tax-collector at New York, in which he says he has no personal property over and above his debts. The New York Graphic comments on this: "Tax-payers, ponder on this fact. Mr. Vanderbilt has no personal property. He swears to that. His railroads earn $12,000,000 per annum, but he is penniless. If Mr. Vanderbilt could be induced to pay his share of the public burdens, and if the officers whose duty it is to see that he does so would compel him to pay up, how much lighter would the burdens of the ordinary tax-payer be! The most urgent reform is to compel our great monopolies to pay up." Thank the Lord there is none of this done in Nevada.

Gold Hill News: Some time about the 8th of last September Robert Menomy fell in the C. & C. shaft and was instantly killed. In fact, his body was so terribly mangled that it took some time to gather up the fragments. One foot was not found, although search up and down and around the shaft was most thorough. Last week, however, it was found in one of the drains at the south side of the pump compartment, 1800 level, where a small stream of water ran along a ditch into the tank. It was promptly polished.

What a Luxury to Club him.

Man milliners have been regarded in Paris the proper persons to arrange how women should be dressed, for more than a dozen years. Gruvill Murray in his late "Round About France" paper, observes that while there may be female modistes quite as tasteful as man milliners, the man milliners do not think so; it is they who originate the fashions which modistes do no more than copy, and theirs is the undoubted faculty of "charging" double what they would venture to do were they women." He relates that there is a great artist in millinery who shall be nameless, but reputation shall be world-wide, who "will not condescend to work for anybody who comes beseechingly to his warehouses." He affirms that his artistic self-esteem will not allow him to dress a lady who would not be likely to do him full justice to his brilliant conceptions. A lady once admitted into the happy circle of this man's patrons, he "scans her with the eye of inspiration," and decides of-hand what he wishes her to wear. Her own choice in the matter is not consulted. When a lady has given many and cogent proofs of knowing what styles are best suited to her face and figure, then, and not till then, does he design to receive her orders. Ladies who rule their own household with firm hand "are as mild as cherubs in the presence of the Olympian milliner." He is cold and peremptory, but, to do him justice, he is not overbearing. Strolling about his saloons, with a note-book and a gold pencil in his hands, "he steps to bow courteously to customers who enter, and either passes them on with a wave of the hand toward the trying-on rooms, or else he retires with them to small mirrored chambers, where the mysteries of new toilet are discussed."

"All Lighted!"

The following laughable incident is told by a well known government office-holder, who has numerous tales to tell of his observation and experience: "There were two seats in the car turned so as to face each other. One was occupied by a lady and the other by a Chinaman. Evidently the lady did not relish the presence of the Chinaman. She explained to him that she wanted to take the cushions and their frames and place them lengthwise across from seat to seat. John said 'all lighted,' and got out in the aisle, while she proceeded to lie down on the best thus improvised, with her head resting on her valise. She supposed that the Chinaman would take the hint that the lady wanted to rest in the space usually occupied by four persons. But John proceeded at once to crawl in and stretched himself by her side, with his head on a little bundle of his own. The Chinese are an imitative race you know. The lady, as soon as she discovered she had a bedfellow, got up a little wildly and started for the next car, to the infinite amusement of the passengers, who had been watching the scene with some interest. John took no notice of the fun he had created, but went to sleep with the whole bed to himself."

The "Graphic" of the Coast.

[Grass Valley Union.] The San Francisco Chronicle must look to its laurels in the way of map illustrations. The Reno GAZETTE has gone into the business, and gives a representation of Pyramid Lake and the government reservation, that as a work of artistic skill discounts the Chronicle's best efforts. The live paper's soul has caused to rankle with envious jealousy.
